miss cotner's first grade class

Week of August 1st-5th

a peek at our week...

Wow! What an amazing start to first grade! I'm so impressed with our smarties! We really enjoyed getting to know your sweeties! Thanks in advance for all of your support.

This week will be full of practice of expectations and procedures. We will also be completing some assessments in class in order to track our learning throughout the year. We will be spending the first few weeks of first grade reviewing our sight words from kindergarten. After this review period we will begin having new words sent home each week. The expectation for first grade is that students will be able to read AND write each word correctly. We will assess them over the words below on August 14th. Thank you for practicing at home! Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions!
